AFRICAN DRUM AND DANCE TROUPE

The Bureau of Lectures is proud to announce that The African Drum and Dance Troupe will be coming back for another tour during the 2016-2017 school year. If your school hasn't yet had the opportunity to see them, don't let this opportunity pass you by.

The group will educate and entertain your students with traditional drumming, dancing, folklore, acrobatics, and history. The show is always highlighted by interaction with both students and staff creating one of the most memorable school assembly programs touring today.

"Very engaging on many different levels. The group did a fantastic job of cultural, historical, and demographical facts of Africa. The performers were very talented and promoted audience interactions and engagements."

– Judy Manyweather, Principal, Gardena, CA

"The performers were polite and professional before the show and awesome during the performance. Our students were in awe and learned about Africa at the same time. Thank you!"

– Nancy Martin, Principal, Stockton, CA

"The show had great pace, was very engaging, and we all loved the student and teacher interaction. It was also important and fascinating to learn about life in Africa."
